

S.A.L.T. Update

Hello and greetings from S.A.L.T. College in Fort Smith! This is the sign you see as you cross the 60th parallel, knowing that in just over 4 more hours of driving you will arrive in our town. Of course, now as we head into November, there is snow covering the landscape.

Our students have been busy for the Lord, ministering by serving at a community lunch program as well as visitation. They also assist in the outreach ministry of the church at the Extended Hand, where many people go for clothing, food, or because they are lonely and want someone to talk to. The students have visited and reached out to those who are in need spiritually, praying and sharing the gospel with them. One lady was led to Jesus last week, and one teenager in particular was ministered to. She had just lost her grandfather, who was all she had in the world, and as she held on to her toddler, she poured her heart out. We rejoice in all that Jesus is doing and how His is drawing people to Himself.

The young man who wants to come from the Arctic has hit a road block – his wife is afraid to come to such a big town (Smith has 2,400 residents). She fears for her children's safety. Please continue to pray for this family that the Lord will work it a miracle for them. He is able!

Thank you for your prayerful support.

Blessings, Rev. Gwen Munshaw
